

English Medium Instruction Induction Program

Are you new to English Medium Instruction (EMI)?
This program is designed to give you more tools to teach academic content in English effectively and to share ideas and methodology with other teachers.

Facilitator: Professor Graham Mackenzie
Center for Language Education and Research

/ 言語教育研究センター

1. Induction session

In this session teaching strategies will be introduced that can help teachers increase the effectiveness of EMI, in particular ensuring student comprehension of content, establishing active and collaborative learning, and dealing with larger classes.

Although there will be a lot of input from the trainer, there will also be many opportunities for discussion and sharing ideas with other participants.

2. Micro-teaching sessions

In these sessions you will have the opportunity to experiment with new teaching methods and receive feedback and suggestions from your peers, as well as to observe other teachers' approaches. You can choose to teach part of a demo lesson to the group or show a video of your class.

These sessions will also be a good chance to build a collaborative community of EMI teachers from different faculties.
